QUESTION TWO

(a) Vatex LLC is a company incorporated and resident in United States of America, the company's shareholders have been strongly advocating for expansion by looking for investment opportunities in Africa, focusing on companies with management and cash flow issues but having a good business model. In 2021, Vatex identified Rwanda as the best country to invest their money.

Vatex is planning to acquire 65% of shares in Dizo Ltd, a Rwandan resident company with shareholding spread between so many business women from Kigali City Market, the company's financial state is not looking good at all.

The equity of Dizo Ltd including retained earnings, predominantly accumulated losses amount to FRW 850 million), the company has a revaluation reserve of FRW 350 million from revaluation of their undeveloped property at Mont Kigali.

Once all arrangements are done, Vatex intends to start with an immediate cash Financial Facility Loan of USD 5 Million (Equivalent to about FRW 5.3 billion), at an annual interest of 8%.

Required:

Write a memo to the Board of Management of Vatex LLC as a CPA Graduate on the tax implications of their investment proposal in Dizo, highlighting specific Rwanda tax law restrictions if any and any relevant point of consideration. (6 Marks)

(b) i. Jacques Mulisa is a Chief Financial Officer at Golden Distillers, a multinational manufacturing company with subsidiaries across Africa. He is Rwandan and currently working for Rwanda subsidiary but he has been offered a service expert opportunity.

Essentially, he would have to relocate to Egyptian subsidiary for the same position, his contract at home shall remain and he will be getting his salary and housing allowance for his family as is now. In Egypt, he will be getting a salary plus other benefits, all relevant Egyptian taxes applicable thereof.

Required:

Advise Mr Mulisa on tax implications he needs to be aware of before he puts pen on paper for this new career opportunity.

ii. Francis Ngabo, a Rwandan has recently relocated back from a foreign assignment in South Africa where he has been serving as Financial Management Specialist for the past 15 years at the International Finance Centre (IFC). He came back home and took up a Country Manager role at a new Venture capital project next to his family in Kigali. He makes substantial amount of money from his side gigs in financial consultancy as well.

During the year 2021, Mr Ngabo earned an equivalent of 3 million South African Rands (ZAR), off which ZAR 750,000 was paid as taxes to South African Revenue Service in the same year.

A2.3araugust2023 icparaugust2023 icparaugust2023 icparaugust2023 icparaugust2023 ici $Page \ 6 \ of \ 12$

In 2021, He got FRW 120 million from his new job as salary and an additional FRW 62 million from his individual consultancies. A total of FRW 36 million paid as PAYE and his Rwandan employer takes care of his house rent bill at FRW 2 million per month.

Foreign exchange rate to be used: ZAR 1 = FRW 68

Required:

Assuming Rwanda has double taxation agreement with South Africa, Compute the tax liability of Francis Ngabo for the year 2021. (10 Marks)

(Total: 20 Marks)

QUESTION THREE

(a) GenMotors is a famous manufacturer of various models of Vehicles, ranging from small salon cars, SUVs, buses and trucks. Recently the Group CEO visited Rwanda and identified various opportunities in transportation sector in Rwanda, both transportation of people and goods. With brand new Vehicles we can take this market by storm, the CEO noted.

As a CPA graduate, write a brief memo to GenMotors CEO highlighting the available fiscal incentives, particularly VAT related, your advice should help GenMotors decide which vehicle models to start with, from a tax perspective. (5 Marks)

- (b) You have been appointed as a senior tax consultant in one of the big four audit firms based in Kigali, Rwanda. One of the clients H Manufacturers Ltd (HM) approaches you for your advice on a number of issues they have with regards to VAT and withholding tax;
- i. EUR 40,000 was paid to a Germany company specialized in maintenance of the plant, the CFO is certain that there is no single company in Rwanda that can provide such service, he therefore believes no tax should be applicable.
- ii. The company outsources plant operators from a resident HR company, on a monthly basis the HR company invoices HM the net salaries plus all relevant statutory taxes, which the company refunds the HR company plus a 10% of gross pay management fees for the HR company services. The HR Company then pays staff, accounts for all relevant PAYE and pension thereof and recognizes the 10% as their income. Your client is contemplating on the VAT treatment in such a circumstance.
- iii. HM won a tender to supply goods to Government, the company made two (2) sales of taxable goods to Rwanda Infrastructure Board, Government Institution. One sale was made in April for FRW 5 million (VAT exclusive) before renewing their tax clearance certificate (Quits fiscal), the second sale happened in May after the company successfully renewed their Quitus fiscal, this time for FRW 3 million (VAT exclusive). The company is not sure how these two sales are different in terms of applicable VAT and withholding taxes (if any at all).

A2.3 raugust2023 icparaugust2023 icparaugust2023 icparaugust2023 icparaugust2023 icparaugust2023 iciPage7 of 12

- iv. HM sources locally most of raw materials usually. In a particular period, they purchased vatable raw materials worth FRW 345 million, the company then processed these raw materials into finished goods as it is their usual business. However, the company made a mix of sales, including; FRW 305 million vatable sales, FRW 100 million exempted and FRW 55 million zero rated sales, all amounts are VAT exclusive where applicable. The company is not sure if there is anything to be worried about.
- v. The company recently imported three (3) SUVs for their senior management team. This is in line with their contractual benefits, for which they pay benefit in kind in their payroll every month. The company paid import VAT and withholding tax on these vehicles and now one of the accountants is seeing a risk of RRA blocking refund of such VAT. These Vehicles shall be in names of the business of HM but won't be used for HM business primarily.

Required:

Advise your client HN on the above VAT and withholding tax issues.
